

CAPONE DISAPPEARS AFTER RELEASE FROM PRISON

TOM PAGE'S WILL PROBATED IN OGLE CO. COURT MONDAY

He Had Originally Left His Farm To Dixon Lodge Of Elks

The last will and testament of Thomas S. Page a long time resident of Ogle county, has been filed for probate at Oregon. Tom Page, as he was more familiarly known, was a resident of Grand Detour township for many years. The will which was filed bears date October 9th, 1916 and as originally drawn provided that after the death of his wife and children the farm of three hundred seventy acres fronting on Rock river should be given to Dixon Lodge No. 778 of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, to be used as a public park forever and with the provision that only a sufficient amount of the land should be rented to provide necessary income to pay for taxes or repairs to fences and buildings on the property. The Order of Elks was given no authority to sell or dispose of any portion of the property.

Subsequently, after the birth of a grandson, the deceased in his own handwriting added a codicil which provided that after the death of all of his children the property was to be divided to Paul T. Page, son of John D. Page, of Grand Detour, and a grandson of the deceased.

The tract of land which Mr. Page owned at the time of his death is one of the most highly valued along Rock river and was for many years the home of Thomas S. Page and his ancestors and his parents spent practically all of their lives.

Mrs. Ross Predicts Democratic Success

Chicago, March 18 (UP)—Prospects for democratic success in the campaign for higher government offices are the best they have been since 1918, in the opinion of former Governor Nellie T. Ross of Wyoming. In an address before district delegates from Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan here yesterday, the former Wyoming executive asserted that their chances for victory were better because there was much dissatisfaction throughout the country with the present administration, particularly among the farmers.

Mrs. Ross, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, charged that the special session of Congress did nothing except spend $800,000 of the taxpayers' money. She also declared that the Federal Farm Board is floundering.

King's Salute For Dead Former Premier

Irun, Spain, March 18 (AP)—The Spanish batteries topping the hills along the French frontier roared a 21-gun salute today as the body of Primo de Rivera crossed the border into Spain.

Thus was the former Dictator, who died in Paris Sunday night, honored with the same salute that would be given a King.

As the train halted at the little railway station here, where sometimes exiles have seen their last of Spain, the coffin was removed and placed in state in a chapel of the station. Masses were said by priests and prayers were offered.

Late this afternoon the funeral train will leave for Madrid.

Departing Winter Takes Final Fling

Chicago, March 18 (UP)—Snow, preceded by rain and sleet swept over Lake Michigan as departing winter flung back spring's advancing temperatures.

Precipitation was heavy over Chicago and weather bureau predictions indicated the storm may continue through the night, with tomorrow cloudy and unsettled. The mercury is not expected to fall below 30 degrees above zero.

Similar forecasts of rain and snow, with continued cloudy weather, were made for the northeast part of Illinois, Indiana and lower Michigan, with a decided drop in temperature for southern Illinois and southern Indiana.

Harrisburg Taxi Driver Is Robbed

Harrisburg, Ill., March 18 (AP)—Walter Duncan, taxi operator here was robbed of $41 and his taxicab last night after he had been taken for a ride six miles out of Harrisburg by two youths who entered the cab to be driven to an address in the city.

Duncan was unharmed and his watch and two rings were not taken. Police believe a desire to see the Carnera-Wiggins fight in St. Louis was the motive of the two youths for the holdup and robbery. No trace of the boys or the automobile had been found today.

STATE MAY ASK FOR BIDS ON RT. 89 IN FORTNIGHT

Land Rights Have Been Cleared Up For Completing Work

It was hinted today that in all probability the State Department of Public Works and Buildings within the next two weeks will advertise for bids for the completion of state highway route 89 in Lee county, including the Walton spur. The clearing up of minor land rights late yesterday made this possible.

In East Grove township it was necessary to arrange for the placing of black dirt on top of the sand where the grade has been established and built, and this was completed by County Superintendent of Highway Fred W. Leake. The necessary borrowed pits of sources of black dirt supply were cleared up thus eliminating any further obstruction in the progress of the completion of the route 89 paving closing the gap which will provide an outlet from Dixon to Princeton and will connect Walton with the new highway through the construction of a spur to that village. All of the grading has been completed and bridges and culverts are constructed ready for the pouring of cement.

STIMSON FAILS TO GET ITALY TO BACK DOWN

Italians Stand Firm In Demand For Parity With France

London, March 18 (AP)—The Italian delegation to the naval conference was reported today to have held firmly to its stand at the outset of the naval conference for naval parity with France.

Secretary Stimson, undertaking the role of mediator in the Franco-Italian naval dispute in an effort to solve the problem which is threatening the outcome of the conference, had a conversation with Foreign Minister Grandi of Italy this afternoon.

His discussion in an effort to effect a compromise between Italy and France was reported to have achieved nothing excepting to get from the Italian Foreign Minister reiteration that Italy wants naval parity with France.

Alton's New Jail Quite Insufficient

Alton, Ill., March 18 (UP)—This city's new $225,000 jail proved too small for Ray Bennett, 18, who sawed his way to freedom last night.

Using his blanket as a rope, the youth dropped 25 feet to an alley in the rear of the jail.

Arrested last Friday on a larceny charge while out on parole on a previous conviction, Bennett was to have been removed to the county reformatory within a day or two.

SCULPTOR FRETS AS HE IS HELD PENDING TRIAL

Indian Women Awaiting Murder Trial With Racial Stoicism

Buffalo, March 18 (UP)—Henry Marchand, brilliant French sculptor who admits he is "an artist—not an angel," sat nervously in the county jail today awaiting trial of Lila Jimerson, 35-year-old Seneca Indian woman, charged with having conspired to bring death to Marchand's wife, Clothilde.

Marchand, whose relationship to the Indian, whom he had used as a model for a series of waxwork statues representing ancient Indian life, will form part of the pertinent testimony at the trial, is held as a material witness. His arrest followed disclosure of letters he had written to the model.

The state will claim that Miss Jimerson had fallen deeply in love with the master artist, and by preying upon the superstitions of Mrs. Nancy Bowen, aged Cayuga squaw, persuaded the older woman to kill Mrs. Marchand.

Lingering Witchcraft
The trial will reveal a strange tale of lingering Indian witchcraft in a "modern community." Miss Jimerson is represented as having persuaded Mrs. Bowen that Marchand's wife possessed black magic, and that she had cast a spell over Mrs. Bowen's husband. The late "Sassafra Charles" Bowen, Bowen, who died a year ago, was a familiar figure on the streets of Buffalo. In his tribe he was reputed to be a medicine man of some distinction.

Believing Mrs. Marchand the cause of Sassafra Charles' death, it is claimed, Mrs. Bowen went to the Marchand home, doing away with the artist's wife.

Miss Jimerson goes on trial first. Her alleged co-conspirator will not be tried until later. She speaks no English.

While the Indian women are accepting the white man's court ordeal with characteristic stoicism, the strain on the Frenchman is marked, and he alone appears disturbed about the situation.

Admission to the court will be by ticket, with a special detail of police to handle the expected crowds. Selection of a jury probably will be difficult, owing to the vast amount of publicity accorded the case since discovery of Mrs. Marchand's body.

Marchand is head of a department at the Buffalo Museum of Natural Sciences, and has produced many works of note, working in marble, bronze and clay.

Eleven Employees Of Service Afflicted

Washington, Mar 18 (AP)—Eleven employees of the Public Health Service are suffering from psittacosis, or parrot fever, and experiments aimed at discovering the cause and cure of this mysterious malady have been temporarily abandoned, together with the laboratory in which they were conducted.

But the experiments have already been partially successful. And to their own efforts the patients owe a process of treatment which is being applied with apparent success. Many of them are recovering.

They are inoculated with a serum composed partially of blood taken from other victims of the disease. In addition, they have isolated the virus in an important accomplishment. However, Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings says that much remains to be learned.

Little is known as yet of how the disease is communicated.

To Examine Sixty Witnesses In Case

Edwardsville, Ill., March 18 (UP)—Some sixty witnesses will be heard by the Madison county grand jury today and tomorrow, regarding the abduction of Charles W. Pershall, wealthy Granite City, Ill., banker and grocery store operator.

Pershall was kidnapped and held several days, his release being secured when his family paid a ransom of $40,000.

No arrests have been made in the Pershall kidnapping case as yet.

Springfield, Ill., March 18 (AP)—Charging collusion between the plaintiffs and defendants in the Modern Woodmen of America rate case, recently decided by the Supreme Court of Illinois here, attorneys for the National Protesters Group of the society, today filed a petition for a rehearing.

TWO KILLED IN EXPLOSION ON L. & N. RAILWAY

Freight Locomotive's Boiler Blew Up In Tennessee Today

Springfield, Tenn., March 18 (AP)—Two trainmen were killed and another was probably fatally injured today in the wreck near here of a through freight train of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, bound from Nashville to Evansville, Ind.

H. L. Russell, fireman, and Aaron Moss, brakeman, both of Evansville, Ind., were killed, and Joe Crandall, engineer, also of Evansville, was probably fatally burned.

R. H. Rowden, ticket agent at Springfield, said the boiler of the locomotive exploded and the men were "blown 100 feet in the air." Eighteen cars were derailed.

A tank of gasoline was in one of the derailed cars, but it did not ignite, and the cars were damaged only slightly.

The Dixie Flyer and the Dixie mail train, south-bound from Chicago to Jacksonville, were detoured via Bowling Green.

Cause of the accident has not been determined. Reports from Evansville that a ho-blo also had been killed apparently were erroneous, as trainmen here said members of the crew were the only casualties.

Joke Is On State In Insane Asylum

Kankakee, Ill., March 18 (UP)—The joke is on the state insane asylum and not on Frank McKinley, it appeared today.

Asylum attendants smiled indulgently and gave their "patient" stationery so he could write to county, state and federal authorities, including the President, asking someone to do something about his $1,400, which he said was hidden in a trunk in storage. No one believed him.

Word came today that his sister, although not believing his story, looked up the trunk. She found $1,400 in small bills.

A petition is to be filed to obtain McKinley's release. He was placed in the institution after his landlady said he prayed aloud all night.

Boxer's Manager Is Victim Of Robbery

Chicago, March 18 (AP)—Jack Kearns' latest fistie charge, Mickey Walker, may have knocked out Jimmy Mahoney last night, but the former manager of Jack Dempsey also took the count himself—and for plenty, too.

To be exact, Kearns was downed for $6500 and a goodly portion of his wardrobe.

Furthermore, the robber who raided Kearns' room in a loop hotel while the boxing card was on, also disclosed what the successful fight manager should wear.

Ten suits of clothes, valued at $1650; six silk robes and one dozen silk pajama suits—all of these and more too, besides the $6500 were stolen.

Insurgent Miners Must Stand Trial

Indianapolis, March 18 (UP)—Insurgents within the ranks of the United Mine Workers of America must appear before the international executive committee for trial on charges of rebellion and fomenting treason within union ranks or face expulsion from the organization.

This action was taken against leaders of the Springfield "rump" convention today by delegates meeting here in the "official" convention. The resolution provided that the international executive board call the leaders and "any others" for trial.

Justice Dept. Will Consider Sen. Report

Washington, March 18 (UP)—President Hoover has asked the Justice Department to consider the report of the Senate committee which investigated federal patronage in the south, but he believes the "reprehensible" practice of selling offices has been definitely ended, he said today.

The senate committee made charges against two present federal officers, but not with regard to patronage, Mr. Hoover said. These charges are already being investigated by the Justice Department.

French Storms Move To North Of Nation

Paris, March 18 (UP)—The storms which have caused floods in southern France in the last fortnight have moved north and reports from central cities today indicated fears of inundations in several localities.

DOHENY WEEPS AS HE TELLS OF MURDERED SON

The Defense Presents Its Evidence In Bribery Hearing

Washington, March 18 (UP)—Edward L. Doheny wept on the witness stand today at his trial on a charge of giving former Interior Secretary Albert B. Fall a $100,000 bribe.

The California oil millionaire was being questioned by Frank J. Hogan, chief defense counsel, regarding Admiral J. K. Robinson's "Japanese war seal" when reference was made to Doheny's son, Ned, who was murdered a year ago.

Asked if Robinson had mentioned his son in describing the destruction which might be wrought on the California coast by a foreign invasion, Doheny's voice faltered and tears came to his eyes.

The 74-year-old defendant was excused from the court room for a few moments until he recovered. The defendant's wife, sitting in the court room was comforted by friends.

Mrs. Doheny accompanied her husband to the court house corridor, speaking to him in a low tone.

Fearful Jap Invasion
The testimony brought out that Admiral Robinson, handling handling affairs for the then Secretary of Navy Edwin Denby, urged Doheny in 1921 to undertake the Pearl Harbor storage project as a patriotic move.

Robinson said he had information that large oil deposits in Japan made an invasion of California possible unless the United States established an oil base in Hawaii.

"Did Admiral Robinson mention your son, Ned, in telling what might happen if invaders reached California?" Hogan asked.

"He did," Doheny replied in a shaking voice, reaching for a handkerchief and dabbing at his eyes.

Son Was Murdered
The younger Doheny was slain by a crazed secretary at Beverly Hills, Cal., Feb. 16, 1929.

Prompted by the questioning of Hogan, the oil millionaire told of events leading to the Pearl Harbor oil storage construction and leases in the naval oil reserve at Elk Hills, Calif.

The questioning tended to show the contracts were undertaken by Doheny with patriotic intent and were advantageous to the government.

Doheny was preceded today by character witnesses who added to the mass of testimony commending the defendant's character.

Woman's Defense Is Dealt Severe Blow

New Castle, Pa., March 18 (UP)—The commonwealth dealt a crushing blow to the plans of defense counsel in the trial of Irene Schroeder today when Judge R. L. Hildebrand sustained an objection of the prosecution that the defense intention to prove criminal insanity in the woman was not a defense for murder.

Mr. Schroeder, on trial charged with the murder of Highway Patrol Corporal Brady Paul, was retired from the courtroom while her lawyers sought another manner in which to begin the introduction of its insanity plea.

The defense asked for a recess to reconstruct its plea. Judge Hildebrand granted the request and court was adjourned until 1:15 P. M.

The fight to bar the defense plea began immediately after the state had closed its case and Mrs. Sarah Mulgoon, Mrs. Schroeder's sister, had been called as the first defense witness.

OVER SCORE DIE IN FIRE WHICH CONSUMED BOAT

Peroleum-Laden River Steamer Burned In Magdalena Stream

Bogota, Colombia, March 18 (AP)—Burned by flames which even water could not quench, the bodies of between 20 and 30 passengers and crew of the river steamer Bucharamanga were sought today in the Magdalena at La Dorada.

The Bucharamanga, berthed at the small river town yesterday, was destroyed when its cargo of petroleum caught fire and burned like tinder. Its Captain, Antonio Velez, refused to leave his ship, was burned to death while standing on its bridge.

Passengers and crew, squeezing through portholes to escape a furnace behind them, jumped into the river, the surface of which was covered with petroleum which had been released from the ship's tanks. This in a moment caught fire too, and many of those in the water were burned to death before they could swim away.

Only ten passengers of a list thought to number more than 30 were saved. Most of the crew perished. Other steamers in the harbor stood by helplessly, afraid to venture too near the doomed ship where the barrels of oil were exploding and spattering liquid fire for great distances about.

The fire was believed to have been the result of carelessness of a fireman.

La Dorada is a small port about 450 miles from the mouth of the Magdalena.

DEFENSE GETS ITS CHANCE IN HUCKINS CASE

State Completes Case Against Alleged Fraud Schemer

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 18 (AP)—Without calling a single witness, the defense in the trial of George E. Huckins on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses rested today. Closing arguments to the jury started at 10 A. M.

Whether Huckins himself would take the stand to testify regarding his mysterious business enterprise which netted investors 26 and 52 percent interest was not announced by his counsel.

Proceeding the appearance of Huckins' witnesses, defense attorneys requested the recall of Charles Regus, who testified for the prosecution last Friday. They asked him to bring into court records of the retail cigar business which he and Huckins have conducted in partnership for the last four years. The concern is now in receivership.

County Attorney Carl Hendrickson yesterday afternoon concluded the state's evidence seeking to prove that Huckins did not engage in the sale of defective cigars. Verne Marshall, Managing Editor, and Earl Coughlin, Sports Editor of the Cedar Rapids Gazette testified Huckins told them last August that he did not operate such an enterprise.

"It might be any merchandise business," Marshall declared Huckins told him. The newspaperman said he asked if it was correct investors had turned over $30,000 to him.

"When I tell you the whole story those figures will look small," he quoted Huckins as replying. Marshall said the defendant described the enterprise as being "so simple it will make you laugh."

Lou Prazak, cigar manufacturer and jobber here for 39 years, declared he had never heard of seconds in the cigar business.

Houdini's Widow

Abandoned Hope

Miami, Fla., March 18—(UP)—Mrs. Harpy Houdini, a small, white haired woman with kindly, penetrating eyes, admitted reluctantly today that she had renounced all faith in ever communicating with her husband, the late noted magician.

For months, Mrs. Houdini said, she had strived through every possible spiritualistic means to establish contact with her dead husband, but without avail.

"I have hoped, prayed and worked to get a message and several great spiritualistic advocates have told me I was successful, but it is not true," she said.

"I know he cannot come back."

Dismissal Of Two

Officials Urged

Washington, March 18—(UP)—Immediately dismissal of U. S. District Attorney John D. Hartman and Collector of Customs Roy A. Campbell of Texas, was asked today in a Senate speech by Senator McKellar, Dem., Tenn.

McKellar, a member of the Senate Patronage committee, called upon President Hoover for immediate action, citing the patronage committee's report which termed both Hartman and Campbell "unfit to hold Federal offices."

YOUNG WOMAN SUICIDES

Kewanee, Ill., Mar. 18—(AP)—Miss Nina Cole, 30, hanged herself in the barn at her home north of Sheffield last night, presumably while despondent over ill health.

CAPONE UNHEARD
FROM SINCE HIS RELEASE MONDAY

weapons, but two months was cut off on account of good behavior. They were entitled to their freedom at midnight Sunday, but it was delayed until the arrival of Governor Fisher from the West Indies.

Got Away Unseen
 Capone and Cline slipped away unseen except by prison officials.

These officials declined to reveal their destination, if they knew it, nor would they state whether the two men had been met outside the prison gate by friends.

In announcing their release four hours after they had been set free, Herbert Smith, Warden of the penitentiary, said they had been taken away in a "brown automobile," and told newspapermen to "try to find out" where they had gone. They did try. But their efforts met with no success. Local police expressed the belief that they headed either for Chicago or Miami, Fla. Capone has an estate in Miami and his wife and son were reported to have spent the winter there.

To add to the mystery, a huge trimotored airplane, seating 14 persons, landed at the Central Airport in Camden, N. J., across the Delaware river from Philadelphia, shortly before 6 o'clock last night. It was reported that the machine, which came from Valley Stream, Long Island, had been chartered to take Capone back to Chicago. The pilot, Gilbert Wallace, said he did not know what the next leg of his flight would be and that he had instructions to await telegraphic orders from New York.

Still Awaits Orders
 He was still awaiting these orders today. This led to the belief that the chartering of the plane might have been a ruse designed to confuse possible enemies of Capone.

In explaining why the prisoners had been transferred to Graterford, Dr. Herbert M. Goddard, a member of the Board of Trustees of the Eastern penitentiary, said the action was taken "because of newspaper stories of enemies of Capone, seeking him at the time of his release."

"The officials of the institution feel," he added, "that they would have done properly performed their duties should they have released him from the Philadelphia institution and subjected him to possible harm, bodily or otherwise."

"TAKEN FOR A RIDE"
 Chicago, March 18—(AP)—The scourge of gangland—the "ride"—added another long list of north side killings last night.

Peter Bica, who emigrated to America after graduating from the University of Rome, was dragged from a sedan by three men. From behind a nearby telephone pole, a passerby watched the three empty their guns into the already limp body of the victim.

On the day after the body of John (the Billiken) Rito was found floating in the Chicago river, police attribute Bica's slaying to a new north side liquor war.

Bica's family, however disputed the theory that he was allied with any gang. They said until recently, he conducted a grocery store. Robbery or extortion was no motive, police found, for nearly $500 in money was found on the body.

Another gangster is missing. Bennie Bennett, reputed partner of Rito, police believe he was killed along with Rito.

Guns also roared on the south side—police guns. Two Negro bandits were surprised robbing a delicatessen shop and were killed in a gun battle with a detective squad.

Persistent Bandit
 Chicago, March 18—(UP)—A persistent young bandit, with blood streaming from a wounded cheek, escaped on a robbery tour of north side restaurants early today. Before he called it a day's work he held up seven cafes in one neighborhood and escaped with $293.

The bandit, about 25 and driving a battered automobile, first robbed the Palace Restaurant of $25. As the youth fled, Patrolman Albert Rickard fired and said the bandit staggered under the fire.

In a few minutes, with Rickard not far behind, the bandit appeared just around the corner. His face bleeding, the robber held up 12 customers at the cook and got $70.

As he emerged Rickard shot again. The robber drove five blocks south and got $13; doubled back and seized $50 in another cafe. Then proceeded one block south again and got $30 at the cafe at 1411. Other restaurants yielded $50 and $15.

Staunching the flow of blood with a handkerchief he drove away with the lot of his tour. Rickard still far behind.

As Soviet Government Wars With Religion

While world religious organizations banded together to oppose the Soviet government's "militant atheism," scenes like this—the conversion of a church into a political meeting place—continued to occur throughout Russia. Here you see workmen, after tearing down religious decorations, replacing them with placards announcing an atheist lecture in the Church of the Smolensky Virgin, Moscow.

Famous Scrobianchensky Monastery, in Moscow, has been doomed by Russia's anti-religious crusade. As pictured here, the dome of the great structure is being torn down and its bells are to be converted into metals for industrial purposes. Where once religious inscriptions appeared over its first gates, a sign now reads: "Park of Culture of the Trade Union of Communist Workers." The churchyard is to be used by Muscovites as a theater, club and public garden.

Will Not Know His Fate Till Thursday

Indianapolis, March 18—(UP)—James Britt, Negro sentenced to die Friday for the alleged murder of Sam Goldberg of East Chicago, will probably not know until Thursday—the day before his execution is scheduled—whether he is to be spared the death sentence.

Gaylord Morton, assistant secretary to Gov. Harry G. Leslie, told Milton Guy, Gary attorney, today that a decision on the commutation appeal will probably not be forthcoming until Thursday.

Governor Leslie is in Florida, but Morton expects to hear from his relative to the Britt appeal for commutation to a life sentence.

THE BLUEBIRD

KNOW the song that the blue bird is singing.
Out in the apple-tree where he is swinging:
"Brave little fellow! the skies may be dreary;
Nothing cares he while his heart is so cheery.
Hark! how the music leaps out from his throat—
Hark! was there ever so merry a note?
Listen awhile, and you'll hear what he's saying.
Up in the apple-tree, swinging and swaying.
"Dear little blossoms, down under the snow,
You must be weary of winter, I know;
Hark while I sing you a message of cheer—
Summer is coming! and spring-time is here!"

Eastern Star Held Enjoyable St. Patrick's Party Last Evening
The St. Patrick's Day party given by the ladies of the Dorothy Chapter, Eastern Star, was a huge success notwithstanding the inclement weather. Over two hundred couples attended. There were fourteen tables of bridge and attractive prizes selected by the committee were won. Mrs. Vera Horton, first prize; Mrs. Arthur C. Bowers, second prize; Mrs. Will Ware, consolation prize. The gentlemen's prizes were won by W. W. Woolley, first prize; Arthur C. Bowers, second prize; and William L. Frye, consolation prize.
The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion and the dance floor was filled with a happy crowd of dancers who enjoyed the music and dancing so much that the party was continued until one A. M. The orchestra played a number of appropriate Irish melodies which are always popular and they received many well-deserved compliments during the evening. The new styles and attractive colors worn by the ladies make a most interesting and delightful picture at such an event, and this one which was attended by such a great number of Dixon's beautiful young ladies and their escorts proved to be an exceptionally pretty party. The guests all expressed the same wish that more of such parties be arranged in the next few months so plans are being made for a series of parties including a beautiful May Party.

N. Y. Easter Parade to be Comparatively Colorless This Year

BY DOROTHY MAHONEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
New York, March 17—(UP)—New York's perennial Easter parade promises to be a comparatively "colorless" one this year.
Black and white—technically, neither of them colors—will predominate in the procession, according to J. Sherwood Smith, one of the leading authorities on what the fair sex shall and shall not wear.
Navy blue and a soft shade of pink, called opaline, featured by aPton, will help somewhat to offset the flashy contrast of black and white. One of the grand couturiers will venture to use yellow-greens and grey-blue freely. All in all, however, most Easter outfits will be of sombre hue.

Of the various types of street coats now being shown, the most predominant are of straight lines with little fur and generally of black or navy blue color. Neutral tweeds are favored for sport coats while the Vionnet type of wrap-around will be given more than passing consideration. Intricate seaming and detail make the wrap-arounds look important.
Short and three-fourth coat suits are being shown by leading shops. Sometimes severely tailored, more often with a softer, more feminine touch, they are well adapted for afternoon wear. Capes and cape effects are in much favor. Both the skirts and coats of these suits show many yokes.

Paris couturiers have solved the controversy over skirt lengths. The street dress, it has been decided, will be three to five inches below the knee. The afternoon dress will be six to eight inches below the knee. The afternoon dress will be six to eight inches and the evening dress will just miss the floor. The uneven hemline has had its day and is not being shown this year.

As suits and coats are lacking in trimming, the fur scarf will be used often. Worth is showing three and four silver foxes while Patou, Lelong and others with Park Avenue and Paris followings sponsor two and three scarfs of fisher and sable as well as various foxes.

Blouses certainly won't be snubbed this season. They will be of every type—with sleeves, sleeveless and cap sleeves. Both tuck-in and over-blouses will be worn, but the normal waistline will always be indicated.

Gloves will be longer and practically no cuff handwear is being shown.

Bags will be both large and small. Patou sponsors the larger bag; Molyneux, Chanel and Vionnet unite around the smaller one. Straps and handles are left to the discretion of the individual.

Straw hats promise to be more fashionable than felt but there will be no scarcity of fabric-like straws. Brims will be trimmed with velvet and grosgrain flowers and other ornaments.

Shoes will vary from the almost grotesquely intricate cuttings to the severely plain.

Ladies G. A. R. Held Meeting on Monday

The Dixon Circle No. 73, Ladies of the G. A. R., held their regular meeting Monday afternoon. There was a good attendance. All committees gave good reports, especially the one in charge of the food sale held Saturday at the Dixon Cleaners, which realized a nice sum for the treasury. A tray cloth was donated by one of the members to be disposed of at this meeting. Mrs. Clara Altenderfer received the gift. After the business a social silver tea was enjoyed by all in keeping with St. Patrick's day.
The tray cloth and the tea both realized a nice sum for the treasury. The meeting closed in regular form to meet again April 7th, an evening meeting.

What Milady is Wearing

The prophesied style rule—simple clothes and lavish jewels—seem to hold good, as witness this evening gown of bright red satin, minus any trimming save for a simple bow at the neckline. Every other bit of ornament is detachable.
The rings and bracelets that decorate both wrists and hands are heavy with diamonds, in regulation, conventional cuttings and in odd geometric shapes. One of the bracelets has emeralds combined with the diamonds, and a tiny watch concealed among its links. Another has rubies outlining.
Lavish as these jeweled accessories seem, there is a thrifty side to this new phase of fashion. Detachable trimmings may be changed from one costume to another, and used in several ways. Bracelets of the type pictured, that are worn on the wrist for evening gowns, are looped around the belt of an afternoon dress, to serve as a jeweled tuckie-band, and are fastened in the knots of bows that close the necklines of daytime frocks.—K. DOBBSAY.

The president of the society, Miss Calla Morgan, introduced the speaker, Miss Dorothy Jones, of Joliet, Ill., and Chung King, China. She is our representative from the Joliet-Dixon District to Chungking where she went as a missionary Oct. 4, 1904, succeeding Mrs. Nellie Decker Beach, who has gone there Nov. 25, 1899.
Miss Jones spoke from the text, "Where there is no vision the people perish." She asked each one to apply these questions to themselves: "What is my vision in regard to the Kingdom of God?" and "How deep in my heart does my love for the Kingdom go?"
When one thinks of China, along with the famines, one naturally thinks of battles and wars and cannot help wondering what they are all about anyway, but on inquiry no one seems able to tell us.
Just at the time of the student unrest in China, Russia saw an opportune time to sow her seeds of Communism among the students who are the thinkers and the future leaders of the nation. The sowing of

The lovely lady at the right is the same Marion after her shopping.

THE FAME OF TIRPITZ.

Von Tirpitz is dead, but his name will be remembered as long as people read and talk about the World War.

It won't be an altogether enviable sort of fame. For Tirpitz was the man who showed the world how horrible and unscrupulous a naval blockade could really be by unleashing Germany's submarines in the "unrestricted" warfare that eventually brought the United States into the conflict.

As a result there is a good deal of blood on his record. He will always be remembered as the man who caused merchant ships to be sunk without warning. A great many non-combatants, men and women and children, died terribly in the water, in the dark, because of Tirpitz.

Yet it is rather foolish to judge the man solely on that basis. After all, wars are not fought politely. A good many German women and children died during the war because of the British blockade. Aviators on both sides bombed the life out of non-combatants, time and again. The innocent bystander always suffers in time of war, and there is not much sense in attaching too much blame to individual commanders.

Von Tirpitz had a more worthy claim to fame. A great many Germans still insist that he would have won the war for Germany in jiftime if the kaiser had only let him.

According to this view, the German fleet—rigorously trained, under Von Tirpitz's directions, for years—was actually more ready for war in 1914 than the British fleet. It was outweighed and outnumbered, but ship for ship and man for man it was the better fighting unit.

Tirpitz himself was convinced of this. When war came he pleaded with the kaiser to send the fleet out to risk everything in one great battle. He was over-ruled, the fleet stayed safely at Wilhelmshaven—except for the one dash that ended at Jutland—and finally it was turned over, intact, after the armistice.

German naval men still say that Tirpitz was right. They declare that the German fleet, in the summer of 1914, would have had at least an even chance in a fight with the British. If it had won, of course, the war would have ended then and there. If it had lost, the war on land could still have gone on.

Probably it is rather fruitless to speculate about it. But that speculation will always be tied up with the name of Von Tirpitz. As long as historians discuss the World War they will discuss the question, "What would have happened if the kaiser had let Tirpitz have his way?"

Meanwhile, Tirpitz himself has finished with the controversy forever. He was, at one time, one of the most bitterly hated men in history. But his name will live for a long time.

THE HEROISM OF THE NURSE.

There seem to be certain classes of workers in this country from whom heroism can be expected almost as a matter of course.

The telephone girls, for instance, make up such a class. Hardly any story of a flood or cyclone is complete without the account of how some gallant "hello girl" stuck to her post in the face of danger in order to warn others.

If you'll stop to think, we believe you'll agree that nurses belong in the same class, only more so.

In the Cleveland Clinic disaster dozens of nurses proved their selfless bravery—and many paid with their lives. Now, in the fire at Providence, where St. Joseph's Hospital was destroyed, the rescue of 168 patients is ascribed to the heroism of student and graduate nurses, working with nuns and policemen.

Holland leads the world in per capita consumption of oranges. If it is the seedless kind, then perhaps that is the reason there has been such a fuss over the naval problem.

This news will surprise many of us who have long felt that the United States, with its many excellent drinks to mix with orange juice, should come second to any nation.

More than $1,000,000 a week is spent in the United States for chewing gum. Which proves there are more stenographers than you think.

"Coolidge silent during visit to Cincinnati," headline. But that's not news.

It would seem that clothes break, not make, the man.

Well, you can't very well beat the Dutch.

The only rivalry the talkies need worry about now is the coughies.

THE TINYMITES
STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The ocean liner picked up steam and, while a whistle seemed to scream, it slowly left the dock behind and headed for the sea. The Tinymites stood by the rail, so startled they were almost pale. Said Scouty, "Gee, the trip in store gives quite a thrill to me."

"When we are on the ocean blue, far, far from land, our dream comes true. We've always wished that we could go upon a trip like this. It's really hard to understand we'll visit every foreign land. We'll keep our eyes wide open so there's nothing we will miss."

The Travel Man then said, "Let's go into our cabin, down below. You all can put your grips away and then come back out here. I'll take you all around the ship, and not a single thing will skip. We'll even go up where we all can watch the pilot steer."

So, to the cabin they all went and about a half an hour was spent in making things real tidy. Then out to the deck they ran. Wee Clowny promptly cried, "Oh, see, the big Statue of Liberty. I guess we're passing by it just as close as we can."

The friendly Travel Man soon roared, "Let's have a game of shuffle board. It is a game they play on deck. They went to where the game was spread out on the deck and Copy said, 'We'll choose up sides and two play two. I'll be real fun that way.'"

All of the Tines shortly found 'twas fun to push the disks around. Each time somebody made a point, the bunch let out a roar. The Travel Man joined in the fun by cheering each and every one. He also helped the game along by marking up the score.

(The Tinymites visit the pilot house in the next story.)

DAILY LENTEN THOUGHT

By Dr. EDGAR DE WITT JONES
Pastor, Central Woodward Christian Church, Detroit, Michigan
Text: Acts 9:11 — "Behold, he prayeth."

When is a human being at his best? Thomas Carlyle said, "Give me the man who sings at his work." There is something to be said for this singing spirit in man. It is commendable and all too rare.

Some claim that man is at his best when he rises to some momentous decision, as for example when the Prodigal Son, in the midst of degradation and defeat, exclaimed, "I will arise and go to my father."

Others aver that man is at his best when engaged in some tender ministry to humanity, as when Sir Philip Sidney, on the battlefield, in the face of death refused a cup of water, saying that a mortally wounded soldier near by had greater need than himself.

Great moods are these, the singing mood, the mood of resolution, the ministering mood; but the greatest mood that man can know is the praying mood. When man really prays, he enjoys spiritual comradeship with the Eternal.

To pray is to put one's self in a receptive attitude to the tides of the Spirit; to be attuned to the Infinite; to ascend the Mount of Vision; to experience pulsations from the Invisible Dynamo.

If a man would know the singing mood, the mood of mighty decisions the mood of tender ministries, let him first know the mood of prayer. "Behold, he prayeth," is the brief biography of a spirit-filled life.

Man is at his highest when he prays.

ter he became assistant district attorney for Erie county. Subsequently he became sheriff of the county, mayor of Buffalo and governor of New York.

In each of these offices Cleveland demonstrated such good judgement, firmness and independence that he was easily the outstanding Democratic candidate for president in 1884. Elected after a hard campaign against James G. Blaine, Cleveland showed the same vigor and spirit that characterized his earlier offices. The creation of the Interstate Commerce Commission and the admission of four new states were the outstanding measures of his first administration.

His second term proved to be one of the most remarkable in American politics, and an event which helped make it so was his Venezuelan message sent to Congress in 1895. Great Britain, which for a long time had been encroaching on the territory of Venezuela, refused to arbitrate the subject. Cleveland's impulsive message hinted war, and England, thoroughly upset, accepted the arbitration. This was called the most signal victory of America diplomacy in modern times.

move the waste, urine, from the blood stream; (2) the ureters, two tubes which conduct the urine to (3) the bladder reservoir where it collects till such a time as it is convenient for the body to discharge it. This it does through (4) the urethra, a tube leading to the exterior.

The kidneys are often attacked by disease germs or microbes. These parasites may come into the body suddenly, as in an attack of scarlet fever. Or they may have lived there a long time, being harbored by the tonsils, around the edges of the gums or the roots of a treated or devitalized tooth, and suddenly gain access to the blood stream and lodge in the kidneys. Here they may give rise to an acute infection with fever and prostration. They may act less violently, and lead to the formation of a stone, or gradually destroy the substance of the kidney. Some of these processes go on so stealthily that they are hardly noticed by the individual afflicted.

The kidneys are also exposed to direct injury from a fall or a blow over the loins, or they may be exposed by certain chemical substances circulating in the blood stream.

The early signs of kidney disease are found in the urine. This will contain abnormal constituents which can be detected chemically and microscopically by the physician—if you give him a chance to examine you. It is the business of the dentist to be sure that the teeth and gums are not the hiding place of dangerous bacteria. He must see that the teeth are kept in a healthy condition.

Periodically our bodies should be carefully inspected to assure ourselves that all is well. This is the best health insurance.

We must think of ourselves as large cell colonies, or groups of living units which have arranged themselves in such a manner that there is a division of labor and the assumption of certain definite functions by each cell group, in order to visualize the dependence of these cell groups upon one another for their existence.

Such a group of cells, devoted to a single function, is called an organ. Where several groups are connected, or inter-related in function, a system is created. Some systems are vital to the human economy. Without them the body must perish.

The urinary system is one of these. Its function is the elimination of waste. This system consists of four groups. (1) The kidneys, which re-

Kidney and Stomach Trouble

New Gly-Cas for An-

Man.

Mr. Harry Watters, 700 South Market St., Knoxville, Ill. (near Galesburg), is among the thousands of former suffering people who feel and frankly admit so publicly, that there never was such a medicine before as this amazing Gly-Cas discovery, it has been said it acts like magic in bringing relief from even the most severe cases of rheumatism, neuritis, stomach, liver, kidney, bowel and blood troubles. Mr. Watters' remarkable statement in praise of Gly-Cas is as follows:

"For over a year I have suffered from a severe case of stomach and kidney trouble, no matter what I ate my stomach would cause me such distress. My kidneys caused me trouble, too, especially at night I would have to get up with them and my rest and sleep was broken. I also had a pain across my back caused from my kidneys which hindered me in my work. Besides this I was constipated continually and in a general poor condition until I began with Gly-Cas. I only had to take one box of Gly-Cas before it did wonders for me. I am rid of that stomach trouble after my meals, that chronic constipation and the pain in my back and kidney trouble has been relieved wonderfully. I can certainly recommend Gly-Cas as the best medicine I have ever taken."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, Dixon; W. J. Long West Brooklyn, and Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives; Polo, C. R. Clothier; Ashton, G. R. EVANSTON, Ill.—Approximately fifty high schools representing practically all mid-west states, will compete next Friday and Saturday in Northwestern University's annual interscholastic track, swimming and wrestling meet.

Thirty-five schools already have entered and at least fifteen more entries are expected before tomorrow night.

Track led the entry list with 20 teams. Swimmers from 11 schools already have entered and ten wrestling teams have sent in entry blanks. The combined entry list totals 254 boys.

ST. LOUIS—The wallop that Primo Carnera packs in his fists numbed Chuck Wiggins, the heavy-weight trial horse, as he tenth knocked out victim on American soil today.

One minute after the second round of their scheduled ten round bout last night, Chuck was trying to lift one tired leg through the ropes when Referee Walter Heisner reached the count of ten and raised the Italian giant's right arm.

Old Chuck's fighting spirit demanded more action despite the rights and lefts that had cuffed his head and body, but it was too late and he ambled to his corner protesting.

The knockout saved Wiggins, out-weighted 64 pounds, from further massacre. He charged in like a bulldog as the fight started, got in several blows and appeared to have Carnera slightly on the defensive as the first round ended.

ILLINOIS FARM RESERVES ARE BELOW AVERAGE

Joint Report Is Made On Stocks Of Grains On The Farms

Springfield, Ill.—(AP)—Illinois farm reserves of corn, wheat and rye are somewhat below average, oats about average and barley above average, the March 1st survey made jointly by the Illinois and Federal Departments of Agriculture said. Expressed as percentages of the 1929 production, farm reserves are reported at 44 for corn, 12 for wheat, 33 for oats, 24 for barley and 12 for rye. Percentages of the 1928 crop on hand a year ago were: corn 37, wheat 10, oats 27, barley 21 and rye 3.

The March 1st report covering farm reserves, A. P. Surrat, Agricultural Statistician said, is always of interest to the agriculture public as it indicates the size of grain supplies remaining on farms for seedling, feeding and marketing at the beginning of the planting season for the new year.

An outstanding feature of the report is "the marked decline in quality of corn since last fall. This applies especially to the southern half of Illinois where the average quality of corn is reported at 58 percent of normal against 75 percent on November 1st or before the advent of adverse late fall and winter weather conditions. The merchantable quality of corn in the northern half of the state has been fairly well maintained. Germination tests show the most unfavorable seed corn situation in several years, however, most of the counties report that seed requirements can be met through careful selection of the best of the 1929 crop available and from limited supplies of 1928 seed carried over.

"Winter wheat condition reports vary considerably. The more unfavorable conditions are largely located in the lower east central area with reports from the remainder of the state mostly indicating around an average or slightly better condition up to March 1st.

"The supply of farm labor is plentiful but demand for the same is less than usual. Farm work is fairly well caught up as favorable February weather permitted delayed corn husking to be largely cleaned up. Some plowing and early spring seeding has been reported during the second week of March.

"Livestock are reported in good condition as a rule.

"The amount of corn remaining on Illinois farms is placed at 44 percent of the 1929 crop or 137,000,000 bushels. 37 percent of the 1929 crop production has been or will be shipped out of the counties where grown compared with 39-percent reported a year ago and the previous ten year average of 35 percent. The general quality and feeding value of corn is mostly up to average or better in the northern half of the state but very below average in the southern half which usually produces about one-third of the Illinois corn crop. Due to varying quality in the southern half of the state, the merchantable portion of the Illinois corn crop is below average and reported at 78 percent of normal against 89 percent a year ago and the ten year average of 82 percent. U. S. carry-over of corn is placed at 37.7 percent or 980,469,000 bushels against 1,021,873,000 a year ago and previous five year average of 1,077,423,000 bush. 33 percent of the 1929 U. S. corn crop will be shipped out of the counties where grown or the same as reported a year ago. 77 percent of the 1929 crop was of merchantable quality compared with 83.1 percent a year ago and the previous ten year average of 80.2 percent.

"Farm reserves of wheat in Illinois are placed at 12 percent of the 1929 crop or 4,384,000 bush. against 2,294,000 a year ago and the previous 5 year average of 5,743,000 bush. 68 percent of the 1929 wheat crop will move out of counties where grown compared with 64 percent a year ago and the ten year average of 63 percent. U. S. all wheat reserves on farms placed at 16 percent of the 1929 crop or 29,153,000 bush. against 151,396,000 a year ago and the previous 5 year average of 122,242,000 bush.

"Illinois farm reserves of oats are reported at 33 percent or 46,774,000 bush. against 57,532,000 a year ago and the previous 5 year average of 46,920,000 bush. 43 percent of last season's oat crop has been or will be shipped out compared with 40 percent a year ago and the previous ten year average of 44 percent. U. S. farm reserves of oats 399,502,000 bush. About 20 percent of the U. S. oat crop will be shipped out compared with the ten year average of 25 percent.

"Illinois farm reserves of barley reported at 24 percent, or 2,900,000 bush. against 6,018,000 a year ago and average of 2,119,000 bush. About 30 percent of the Illinois barley crop has been or will be shipped out, compared with the average of 32 percent. U. S. Farm reserves of barley 73,280,000 against 97,167,000 a year ago. About 27 percent of U. S. barley crop has been or will be shipped out against 33 percent a year ago.

"Illinois farm reserves of rye are reported at 131,000 bush. against 108,000 last year. About 45 percent of Illinois rye is shipped out of counties where grown. U. S. farm reserves of rye 5,358,000 bush. compared with 5,724,000 bush. a year ago. About half of the U. S. rye crop is shipped out of counties where grown.

Farm labor situation continues to show supply considerably in excess of demand with the March 1st supply reported at 100 per cent and demand at 83 per cent of normal."

Weekly Review of Agriculture by Farmers Paper

Chicago, Ill.—(AP)—Cattle feeders and graziers have been taking out thin steers freely in recent months and have helped maintain prices, the Prairie Farmer's review of market conditions said. "Fat cattle prices have ranged over much the same ground during the last three or four weeks," the review said. "Demand for beef has been sluggish, hence feeder demand must be given considerable credit for keeping up prices. Last year, the average price of good beef steers at Chicago advanced from $12.35 early in March to $15 by late July. The present market is around $12.50. The chance for advances this spring are less than a year ago.

"Hog prices have been sea-sawing over a rather wide range in the last two weeks. Receipts have been diminishing irregularly, export clearances of lard have been fairly large, and storage stocks are smaller than a year ago. But, the market acts somewhat tired following the rather prolonged ascent from the November low spot. The course of prices will depend upon what the supply proves to be.

"Extremely low prices for fat lambs late in February led to a decided gain in the rate of movement into consumptive channels, but the supply of lamb still to be sold is so large that moderate upturns in prices attract liberal runs. It seems probable that the market is down to a general level at which the remaining supply can be merchandised. Wool prices continue about steady.

"Farm Bureau agencies checked the slump in the wheat market near the end of February and seem to be carrying it along at this time. Basic conditions remain unfavorable and the world carryover promises to be well above the normal. Larger world production is in prospect for the new season.

"Disappearance of corn during the winter was somewhat less than a year previous, but represented a high percentage of the total available supply. The ratio between prices of corn and hogs and beef cattle is stimulating feeding operations, while dairy cattle feeding is being retarded. There is practically no chance for exports.

"Hay buyers are slow to lay in supplies with the pasture season close at hand and the market is on a hand to mouth basis.

"Prospects for the egg producer do not appear as favorable as a year ago. Feed costs are relatively low, however, so producers will probably feed heavily in spite of lower prices. Prices have dropped rapidly since the middle of February and are now lower than at any corresponding period since 1922. Prices are likely to average lower than for several years.

"The butter market has continued its nervous trend. Supplies of fresh stock are liberal and many are looking forward to a sustained heavy make. Despite low prices, demand has failed to show any pronounced increase, so that receipts of fresh butter have been almost large enough to take care of the entire trade. As a result, storage stocks still hang depressingly over the market."

GRAPE PRUNING

Grapes must be pruned every year if good crops are expected and now is the time to do it before the buds swell. The job should be done even after the buds swell than not to do it at all.

The Kniffin system is the best to use. The four-cane system is recommended for all ordinary conditions, but the six-cane will probably give the best results if the vines were originally planted too close and if the variety is a strong grower in fertile soil. The four-cane system consists of a two wire trellis with the wires three to five feet above the ground on which the fruiting vines are trained in either direction. In addition three or four short canes or spurs about two hands long and arising close in about the level of the wires should be left at pruning time. Shoots which will grow from buds on these spurs may be used as fruiting canes the next season. This is called the long cane renewal method.

The regular monthly meeting of the Future Farmers was held last Tuesday evening in the new high school building. A large attendance was present. A short business meeting was held in which plans were discussed for the annual father and sons banquet which will be held March 23. After the business meeting the following talks were given:

Care of the Brood Sow—Lloyd Breisch.
Pruning Apple Trees—Edward Lawton.

Members of the agriculture class are engaged in preparing oral talks on farm subjects. One person will be selected from the classes next May to represent Dixon at a sectional Future Farmers oratorical contest to be held at Ashton.

A magazine selling campaign is in full swing among the members of the agricultural class this week. The members are divided into two sections under Captain Bellows and Captain Breisch. Three magazines are being sold, namely, Successful Farming, Farmer's Wife and Better Homes and Gardens. The losing side in the campaign will furnish ice cream for the successful salesmen.

CAREFUL SEED SELECTION IS PRODUCTIVE

Many Illinois Farmers Add Greatly To Annual Corn Crop

Urbana, Ill.—(AP)—Many Illinois farmers could add as much as ten bushels an acre to their corn yields this year and thereby get more efficient production by careful seed selection of their seed, according to reports from growers who last season followed the recommendations in the better seed corn project of the college of agriculture, University of Illinois.

There is danger of rigid culling of seed ears being slighted as a result of the publicity which has been given to germination and seed treatment as methods of improving yield and quality in corn, it was pointed out by Walter J. Mumm, associate in plant breeding at the college. Germination and seed treatment should supplement careful plant and ear selection and not replace it, he explained.

Increased yields harvested this past season by a McLean county farmer are typical of those to be had through ear selection, Mumm said. This farmer has never culled his seed ears before. H. L. Stiegelmeier, a local corn project leader in the county, got him interested in the idea. The selected seed yielded 10.2 bushels an acre more than the unselected. An additional 5.9 bushels an acre increase was obtained by running the selected seed over a germinator to eliminate the inferior ears that could not be spotted in the culling.

Seven corn project leaders in Fulton county last season got an increase of 10.17 bushels an acre in favor of their carefully selected seed over their unselected. Mumm reported. In tests carried on in Hancock county three farmers harvested an average increase of 9.15 bushels an acre for their selected seed. A yield contest carried on in connection with the Hancock county trials brought out the fact that these farmers had through physical selection been able to get better yields of sound corn from their own home grown seed than from any seed they could have bought.

In Lake county a yield increase of 2.6 bushels an acre was reported for selected seed with 17 per cent more marketable corn than was obtained from unselected. After from four to five years of careful corn culling in Ogle county, the seed tested on the germinator for 18 farmers showed less disease than it ever had, bearing out the point that selection will eliminate disease-susceptible types.

In Stephenson county where cut worms, white grubs, hail and drought gave trouble last year, the selected seed yielded 43.3 bushels an acre as compared with 39.7 bushels for the medium-good and 31.5 bushels for the diseased seed.

The ear that is free from disease and that will yield well has certain unmistakable characters, according to Mumm. It is heavy, lustrous, shows no indication of disease in the shank or cob and the kernels are free from mold. The best seed ordinarily is not found on the largest ear. Those with 16 to 18 rows of kernels and slender rather than thick are preferable. Type and indentation of the kernels should extend well down to the tip of the ear. The kernels themselves should have good depth, should be horny or oily in appearance, well filled and meaty, lustrous and with medium to large germs. Mumm recommended.

Drop In Exports Affects Current Prices of Wheat

BY FRANK I. WELLER

(Associated Press Farm Editor)

Washington—(AP)—Europe imported 180,000,000 bushels less wheat from North America between August 1 and February 21 than it did in the same period a year ago.

Regardless of other views, government figures show a decrease in export trade sufficient to be listed among the chief factors contributing to the present wheat situation.

Sam R. McKelvie, farm board member representing wheat interests, says lighter exports certainly are important among reasons for the recent decline in domestic prices.

Last year 359,000,000 bushels of North American wheat were exported between August 1 and February 21. This year only 179,000,000 bushels were exported. World shipping was but 365,000,000 bushels as against 548,000,000 a year ago.

Comparison of the figures shows that all except 3,000,000 bushels of the slump in exports of the world were accounted for in North America.

The reasons are numerous. European countries had larger supplies of bread grains at home. To protect their own farmers, France, Germany and Italy, enacted laws requiring their millers to use a certain per cent of native grains in every pound of flour they produced. To insure compliance, duties were levied or restricted on imports from North America.

For the first time since the war, Russia came into the export market with from 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 bushels of wheat. Danubian countries exported 11,000,000 bushels more than a year ago.

Recently Australia and Argentina entered the export trade with new wheat crops which proved to be larger than anticipated.

In the meantime the stock of market wheat in the United States alone was 38,000,000 bushels larger than last year. Exports were only slightly less than a year ago, but in a great number of cases exporters accepted whatever price they could get after the grain was afloat.

HOPE FOR CURE

Washington, D. C.—A new hope in the cure of tuberculosis has been given by Dr. William C. White of the Public Health Service. It is a fine dusty-white sugar produced by tuberculosis germs. This sugar may be a chemical bond between the germ and a human cell. If the germ can be divorced from the cell a cure is practical, according to White.

EXERCISE IN WINTER WILL KEEP BROOD SOW IN CONDITION

Alfalfa, Skimmilk, Corn, Salt and Water, Excellent Cold Weather Ration

ALFALFA HAY AND SKIMMILK KEY TO PROFITABLE WINTER RATION FOR BROOD SOWS

A good brood sow ration in winter contains: 1. Plenty of protein, minerals and vitamins 2. Right amount of feeds

PLENTY of alfalfa or other legume hay and skimmilk to go with corn or other farm grown grains and salt and water make an excellent winter ration for brood sows, says the Blue Valley Creamery Institute. Such a ration provides all the proteins, minerals and vitamins needed to keep the sows in fine health and to produce large strong litters in the spring.

When choice alfalfa, clover or soybean hay is fed uncut in a rack, sows generally eat all they need of these economical and excellent sources of valuable proteins, minerals and vitamins.

By feeding from 4 to 6 pounds of skimmilk to each sow, it is not necessary to buy expensive protein concentrates such as tankage and fish meal. Skimmilk is rich in the very proteins and minerals needed by sows to produce well-developed husky pigs. When there is not enough skimmilk available, small amounts of tankage or fish meal should be added to the ration to supply the necessary animal proteins.

Ear or shelled corn, sorghum grain, or ground wheat, barley or oats are the best and most economical grains to include in a brood sow ration. Corn is superior to all other farm grains in feeding value with wheat next. Sows under one year of age are still growing and need more grain than older sows. A good allowance for them is around 1.7 pounds grain for each 100 pounds of their weight. Yearling sows need around 1.4 to 1.6 pounds grain for 100 pounds weight, and older sows, 1 to 1.2 pounds. In addition, salt and water should be placed where the sows have free access to it.

To keep sows in good condition in winter, they should be given exercise every day. Exercise can best be given by placing the rack containing the alfalfa hay and feeding grain some distance from the sleeping quarters so that the sows are forced to walk back and forth.

OGLE PROGRAM FOR BOYS, GIRLS IS FORMULATED

Four Projects To Be Carried Out There This Summer

A special committee of Farm Bureau members selected to work out the boys' and girls' club work program in livestock and crop projects for this year have announced, following their meeting that the projects to be carried on will be: Beef, Calf, Dairy Calf 1st and 2nd year, Corn and Poultry with the possible addition of the Fat Barrow club if there is sufficient interest.

The emphasis will be placed at present upon the Dairy Calf Club, the Corn Club and the Poultry Club for they should be started in April in order to be satisfactory. It is emphatically recommended that members should be secured in groups of sufficient size to be organized into local clubs to be directed by a local leader. It is not necessary that all members of a local club shall carry on the same project, but there must be at least five in the same project.

There were six men appointed on the club work committee as follows: Ralph R. Thomas, Mt. Morris; H. W. Allyn, Byron; John F. Dunmer, Davis Junction; W. A. Heintzelman, Polo; O. J. Trei, Forreston and Chas. Gatz, Polo. The committee members were all present Monday but one, and with them were Vernon Hohnadel, Oregon; K. E. Welmer, Rochelle; Harold Laxier, Rochelle and Roland Hartman, Mt. Morris.

who have been or will be local club leaders and who with the Farm Adviser and G. S. Randall, Assistant State Club Leader, assisted the committee in planning the program.

Among the club work activities suggested by the committee are: A club officers training school about May 24, the county live stock exhibit at the Fair, September 3 and a club "Achievement Day" to include the corn and poultry show about the middle of November. Two of these events will be new this year.

Interest in club work for boys and girls is rapidly growing in Ogle county and club leaders are being sought who will organize and lead local clubs. Boys or girls who want to enroll and adults who are willing to lead can secure information from the Farm Bureau office at Oregon.

SEEKS $2,000,000 ESTATE OF FAMOUS EUROPEAN DANCER

Los Angeles Woman Says She Is Daughter Of Late Gaby Deslys

Los Angeles, Calif., March 18.—A vivid cross-shaped scar on the little finger of her left hand today became the clue upon which Mrs. Edna C. Stiles of Pasadena, Calif., hopes to solve the mystery of her parentage and make her heiress to the reputed $2,000,000 estate of Gaby Deslys, noted French dancer, who died two years ago.

A. W. McGovney, Gardena, Calif., attorney, announced he had forwarded claims intended to prove the Pasadena woman's contention that she is an illegitimate child of the dancer, to Paris courts where the estate now is being settled.

Mrs. Stiles' contention is based largely on testimony of an aged French nurse, who said the dancer, years ago, gave secret birth to a baby girl. A few hours after the baby was born, the nurse said, she cut a cross into the flesh of the little finger of the child's left hand, for identification purposes.

Baby Abandoned in Peoria.
The dancer, at the peak of her fame, the nurse testified, instructed that the baby be placed in a foundling home. A few days later a man is said to have left a tiny baby, its finger still wrapped in gauze, in a Peoria, Ill., children's home.

Mrs. Edna L. Milner, it is alleged, then adopted the child, the present Mrs. Stiles. Photographs of Mrs. Stiles, taken shortly after the adoption, and showing an injured finger, have been entered into the records. Despite the fact that Miss Deslys in theatrical records alleged she was born in 1888, and Mrs. Stiles was placed in the foundling home in 1885, McGovney said he had evidence that the dancer in reality was born in 1867.

Gaby Deslys in the early 1900's was one of the most famous dancers in Europe and gained unusual prominence through her friendship with members of the nobility. In 1910 she flashed into the spotlight when the fall of King Manuel of Portugal was attributed to his infatuation for her.

A Year of Outstanding Accomplishment

The management of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) takes both pride and pleasure in directing the attention of the Company's host of friends and patrons to its accomplishments during the past year.

The financial statement just released evidences 1929 as the most successful year in the Company's history.

To the great public, whose enthusiastic and continued patronage has made this possible, the Company returns appreciative thanks.

To the army of 27,122 employees, who have so ably carried out the policy of the Company in giving to the public a complete and satisfying service, much credit is due.

During the past year, this Company has taken a great stride forward by acquiring control of Pan American Petroleum and Transport Company and subsidiaries with its five million acres of oil lands, thus providing an assured source of crude petroleum and securing expanded marketing facilities.

This Company has likewise extended its marketing facilities in the great Rocky Mountain area through the Midwest Refining Company.

Now the touring motorist will find Standard Oil Company (Indiana) emblems of friendly, satisfying service in much new territory.

The motorists of the Middle West have been quick to accept the New Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline, introduced late in 1929. They have grasped the significance of a fuel that meets perfectly the needs of the new high compression engine and lends new life to the veterans of the highway.

An accurate idea of the degree of acceptance by the public of Standard Oil Company (Indiana) products is reflected in sales of 39,017,894 barrels of finished petroleum products in 1929 as compared with 35,432,806 barrels in 1928.

The latest achievement of the Manufacturing Department is the development of a new motor oil—which finds expression in New Iso-Via and New Polarine, being introduced with great promise to the public, coincident with the publication of the message.

The success of the Stock Purchasing Plan is emphasized by pointing out that after being in effect nine years, approximately 75% of the stock distributed under this plan remains in the hands of employees—which demonstrates the value of employee partnership.

The Stock Purchasing Plan, the Annuity Plan and the Death Benefit Plan constitute the management's tangible expression of its appreciation of the unwavering loyalty and tireless efforts of the employees.

The Board of Directors is gratified by the constantly mounting number of stockholders—now 81,022. This is approximately 36,000 more than were of record a year ago.

With this rapidly spreading ownership it seems certain that 1930 will be another year of achievement—greater in progress, greater in opportunity to serve the millions of people who call the Middle West home.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

Boys hunger to be like some man whose fantastic exploits have caught their youthful fancies. If it is a burglar or a bandit or even a great and renowned bootlegger being buried in a $15,000 casket, that fills the picture, the hero worshiper will probably follow a life of crime. It is up to those who are rearing boys who are charged with the responsibility of training boys, those who come in daily contact with them to make the other side of the picture more attractive, more alluring, and to convince the youth of today that crime despite its melodramatic aspect, doesn't pay. Scouting is accomplishing this aim and is actually training the boy to become a 100 per cent American. Scoutmasters are men of a high standing in a community. Men of understanding and of great patience to guide the boy in the right direction.

Winston Edwards is to serve the local Boy Scout movement on the Troop Organization committee. He will be assisted by two others representing the Kiwanis Club.

When a latched screen prevented his unlocking the front door, McDonald tried to go through the service door. He upset a refrigerator while trying to climb through. The ice box pinned his head between the door, the box and the floor, and drew his collar taut.

Formation Of World's Biggest Bank Is On

New York, March 17.—(UP)—Formation of the world's largest banking institution with total resources of $2,814,000,000 and total deposits of $2,072,000,000 was under way in Wall Street today, according to reports.

The latest realignment of the nation's banking resources indicates a consolidation of the Chase National Bank of New York, The Equitable Trust Co. and the Interstate Trust Company under the name of the former institution. At present the National City Bank of New York is the largest bank in the world with total resources as of December 31 of $2,206,000,000 and deposits of $1,649,000,000.

It is understood that terms of the Chase-Equitable-Interstate consolidation will be four shares of Chase for 12½ shares of Interstate.

Directors of the Chase National and Equitable will hold special meetings tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, to be followed immediately by meetings of their security companies to act on the merger terms. National City Bank has held the distinction of being the largest bank in America since 1897, when its deposits first reached the $100,000,000 mark.

Prisoners Caught In Escape Attempt

Columbus, O., March 18—(UP)—One prisoner was shot and wounded and another was captured when they attempted to escape from the state penitentiary here early today.

The prisoners, Chester Probski, 21, Cleveland, and Herbert Probski, 28, Dayton, were lowering themselves down a crude ladder suspended from the top of the administration building when they were discovered.

Guards fired upon the men as they dropped to the ground and fled and Probski fell, wounded. Another shot caused Hardin to surrender.

Guards said the men cut their way from their cell to reach the roof of the administration building.

Probski was serving one to three years for carrying concealed weapons and Hardin was serving 20 to 30 years for breaking and entering an inhabited dwelling.

Three Killed When
Train Struck Truck

Manchester, Ill., March 18—(UP)—Three persons were killed when a truck, loaded with hay and on which they were riding, was struck by a south bound Chicago & Alton passenger train near here yesterday.

The victims were Henry Harris, 37, Ralph C. Curtis, 32, and Vincent Gidney, 27, all residents of Manchester.

There were no witnesses to the crash and belief was expressed at an inquest that the truck was stalled on the crossing as vision there is unobstructed. A coroner's jury failed to place responsibility.

"NO MEDICINE
IN THE WORLD
LIKE KONJOLA"

Chicago Lady Declares New Compound Was First to End Three Years of Suffering.

MRS. MARY GIAMBALVO.

"I have taken Konjola and now I fully realize that there is no medicine in the world like this splendid remedy," said Mrs. Mary Giambalvo, 842 North Townsend street, Chicago.

"I was highly nervous, had headaches constantly and my vitality was far below normal. Constipation allowed my system to fill with poisons and impurities. I was greatly discouraged for nothing I tried benefited me."

"I was skeptical about Konjola but when I put it to the test I immediately realized it was what I always needed. The results were simply marvelous. Today I haven't an ailment. Chronic constipation is at an end. The nervousness and headaches disappeared and I feel as though I had taken a tonic that revived me in every way. No wonder Konjola has more than a million friends."

Konjola is sold in Dixon, Ill., at FORD HOPKINS' DRUG STORE, 123 W. First St., and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

Unwedded Woman
Mother of Eight

Chicago, March 18—(UP)—For 12 years Margaret Marshall lived as the wife of Edwin Block, World War flyer. She bore his eight children. Since 1919 they had not spent a night apart.

The other day they quarreled and Block said: "You're not my wife, anyway." Then she remembered seven years ago when they came to Chicago a minister shook hands with Block and asked: "Didn't I bury a little girl for you a few years back?"

So Margaret investigated and found that Block had married Ann Suchor in Chicago in 1916 and had neglected to get a divorce. She caused his arrest and Block was held to the grand jury under $5,000 bonds when arraigned yesterday on a charge of bigamy.

"I feel like an outsider," she said.

How They Grew Thin

You will be surprised, if you look around, at how many people have grown thin in late years. It is evident that some new method has come into very wide use.

It has been found that a weak gland is a great cause of obesity. So modern physicians have been fighting that cause, without starvation diets.

This right method is embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. People have used them for 22 years—millions of boxes of them. Now in almost every circle the delightful results are apparent.

A book in each box of Marmola tells you how and why it acts. The formula is given. Go try this remarkable, this natural means. Ask your druggist today for a $1 box of Marmola. You owe that to yourself.

PILE SUFFERERS

You can only get quick safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Nothing but an internal remedy can do this—that's why cutting and salves fail. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, is guaranteed to quickly and safely banish any form of Pile misery or money back. Rowland's Pharmacy and druggists everywhere sell it with this guarantee.—Adv.

Murder Backstairs

©1930 by NEA SERVICE INC. BY ANNE AUSTIN AUTHOR OF "THE AVENGING PARROT" "THE BLACK PIGEON," ETC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DORIS MATTHEWS, lady's maid, is murdered Friday night in a summerhouse on the Berkeley estate by a blow with a heavy perfume flask, and the body, rock-weighted and tied with (L) RINDA BERKELEY's scarf, is dumped into the lake where it is found Saturday morning by DETECTIVE BONNIE DUNDEE, house guest, who summons CAPTAIN STRAWN.

MEMBERS OF HOUSEHOLD (all under suspicion): MR. and MRS. GEORGE BERKELEY, who have quarreled over Clorinda's engagement to SEYMOUR CRONIN, close friend of the social secretary, MRS. LAMBERT, GIGI BERKELEY, who sprinkling a person in drawing room—Eldon night with perfume from flask presented by Crosby to Mrs. Berkeley and later used as murder weapon; DICK BERKELEY, who after having been missing all night, turns up while his mother is accusing EUGENE ARNOLD, chauffeur, of having murdered Black and Doris WICKETT, butler, formerly in employ of both Mrs. Lambert and Crosby.

Mrs. Berkeley contends she did not see or speak to Doris after 7:15 but is forced to admit she called Doris over house phone about 11:15 from library and told her to await her mistress in bedroom; says Doris was not there. Confronted with the rugged print of Doris's mouth on the bathroom dressing-table mirror, Mrs. Berkeley admits she slugged the maid while dressing for dinner for having said she used "too much perfume"; denies seeing took place in bathroom where Doris was not there when she (Mrs. Berkeley) came up to bed about 11:40, but collapses when told her daughter Clorinda's scarf was found tied about the murdered girl's legs.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIX

It was Bonnie Dundee who mixed a dose of aromatic spirits of ammonia and George Berkeley who staggered a little under her weight, carried the fainting woman to her unmade bed.

"Looks like a confession coming on, don't it?" Captain Strawn whispered as Dundee was hurrying past him to the bed.

But when Mrs. Berkeley opened her eyes and was jerked back to realization by the sight of Captain Strawn bending expectantly over her, she did nothing more illuminating than to scream, then close her eyes again, rolling her head distractedly on the matted pillows.

They left her in her husband's charge shortly, but in the hall Strawn beckoned to a detective doing patrol duty and stationed him in the little over between sitting room and bedroom, with instructions to listen at the not quite closed door leading into the bedroom.

As Dundee and Strawn were walking down the broad stairs the latter whispered urgently: "Pretty good! She's there, but she's not talking. Got the flask of perfume Crosby had given her to her room between 10 and 11. She says herself she told him to take it, and I'd bet my shield he did. Perfume gone. Girl in struggle in the bathroom. And the old Tatar admits she slapped the girl around seven o'clock. Tried to lie about ordering the girl to go to her room and wait till she came up. Thought her husband would back her up, and nobody else would know. But George Berkeley's a white man, and no fool, either. Wouldn't let her get away with it, would he?" and Strawn chuckled.

They had almost reached the last step, and Dundee halted before answering in a low voice:

"There's something—a lot—that hasn't come out yet, Chief. Did you catch that about the bottle of perfume? I'd give a good deal to know the truth about Doris's 'impudence'—exactly what she said to make Mrs. Berkeley slap her. As it is now, I can't see Mrs. Berkeley chasing the girl out of the house, brandishing the flask of Fleur d'

"Sitting on the arm of his chair isn't sprawling," Gigi corrected her sister cheerfully.

Amour, till she caught up with her in the summerhouse, and then it her pretense at gaiety. "Have—have you found out who—who killed poor little Doris?" she pleaded.

"Not yet, Gigi," Dundee answered gravely.

"I'd like to have a little talk with you, Miss Clorinda," Strawn cut in. "Come along to the library. The rest of you will please go to the room you call 'the little parlor' and wait till you're called."

Calmly and disdaintfully, Clorinda murmured "You'll pardon me?" to Mrs. Lambert, then walked across the dining room with the leisurely self-possession of a queen or a mannikin.

Gigi watched her wide-eyed, a little brown fist pressed against her mouth. Then before her sister had reached the detectives she was on her feet and dashing after her.

"Yes, I know," Dundee frowned. "But—Well, what next? Clorinda?"

"Sure! If she gives us that sounds like a straight story as to how that scarf got into the summerhouse, I, for one, am pretty near ready to get out the bracelets for the old lady. Guess I ought to have checked up on the shoes she was wearing last night, to see if there was an air of that perfume on the soles, but I didn't want to

CENSUS FIGURES ON EMPLOYMENT AWAITED BY U. S.

Census Takers Will Ask Many Questions Con- cerning Idleness

Washington, March 18.—(AP)—Administration officials are awaiting the census of unemployment next month, which is to determine for the first time the number of persons idle in the United States as a result of economic conditions, including the depression following the stock market crash.

Secretary Davis has estimated that the total does not exceed 3,000,000, while other estimates have ranged higher.

Upon the results of the count will depend the measures which the government will undertake to relieve the situation. It was pointed out today that in the absence of definite information it has been impossible to take effective steps for solving the problem.

Sworn to keep confidential for the Census Bureau information obtained concerning unemployment, the census takers will ask questions as to employment of all persons usually working at some gainful occupation.

The names of all gainful workers who were not at work on the day preceding the enumerators call will be recorded in the canvass, but all of these will not be counted as unemployed. Persons who report that they have no jobs at all will be asked whether they are able to work, whether they have sought a job and the reason for being out of work. Those who report they do have a job but are not at work at the time will be asked why, and whether they are losing pay by not being at work.

Queries also are to be propounded both to those without jobs and those on layoff as to how long they have been idle. The extent of unemployment in the nation depends, it was said, as much on the length of the period of idleness as upon the number idle.

After the census is taken next month, Secretary Lamont expects to use it as a basis for keeping abreast of unemployment. This will be done by a process of "sampling" in various sections where the worst conditions exist.

COMMITTEE STARTS PROBE

Washington, March 18.—(UP)—Investigation of unemployment conditions was opened by the Senate Commerce committee today with a statement by Senator Wagner (Dem., N. Y.) that "there never has been an unemployment situation more serious than the present one."

As Wagner described conditions to support his plea for enactment of his three bills to relieve unemployment, a delegation of unemployed, shabbily dressed, waited outside the committee room with their leader, Eads, How, the "Millionaire Hobo," and did not hear the New Yorker's testimony. How's delegation of ten shabbily dressed men, who were told by Chairman Johnson that they could not testify, was augmented by 50 unemployed outside of the Senate wing.

Howe and his comrades will appear later when room for them can be made on the committee's schedule of witnesses.

The band of unemployed was a group typical of the bread lines and "hob houses." "For three months in our large cities," Wagner told the committee, "our bread lines have stretched for blocks and our lodging houses have been crowded. In some communities barges have been fixed up to enable the unemployed to sleep. Many, many men are without means and without anything to eat."

The New York Senator, once a room-mate of Alfred E. Smith in their Albany legislative days, displayed a photograph of Calvin Coolidge at a Los Angeles "feast" and another photograph of the bread line at a Bowery eating house.

"Remove Ugly Things" "Some persons say we are bringing out ugly things when we talk about unemployment," Wagner commented. "They say you ruin prosperity by talking about conditions as they are. I want to tell you that you will never remove the ugly things until they are brought out into the light of day. There must be a crisis of some kind which captures the imagination of the people in order to get a remedy."

Wagner spoke in favor of three bills he has introduced. One calls for setting up a bureau of unemployment in the Department of Labor statistics to gather correct and timely information concerning employment conditions.

The second authorizes $4,000,000 to create a cooperative Federal Employment Bureau and the third authorizes $150,000,000 for promotion of a long time system of public works to guarantee steady employment in government building operation.

Payrolls Are Less

Wagner did not estimate the number of unemployed but said the purchasing power of the workers apparently had fallen off $200,000,000 between September and January last. He said Labor Department reports for a week last September showed the payroll of one-third of the factories of the country amounted to $98,635,000 while a week in January showed $82,000,000, a drop of more than $16,000,000. For all the factories therefore he estimated it would mean a diminution of $200,000,000 in payrolls.

Wagner explained he accepted the prediction of President Hoover that employment would be better in 60 days because conditions of February always improve in May. He said, however, this was only a seasonal improvement.

Wagner's statement and bills were endorsed by Prof. Benjamin M. Squires, University of Chicago, chairman of the Employment Insurance Fund of the Men's Clothing Industry of Chicago.

"There are signs of taking up some of the slack in some localities, but in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia, where I have made personal investigations, unemployment is still acute," he said.

LOS ANGELES IS BEING STUDIED BY U. S. EXPERTS

Fate Of Navy's Only Dir- igible In Hands Of Survey Board

By ROBERT C. ALBRIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent
Washington, March 18.—(UP)—The life of the dirigible Los Angeles is hanging in the balance.

The Navy Board of Inspection and Survey is subjecting the Navy's only rigid airship to grueling tests to determine its life expectancy. Upon the report rests the airship's future supremacy in American skies.

Already the Los Angeles has outlived the span allotted the average German commercial dirigible, estimated at five years. It was built in 1924.

More than 100 parts of the dirigible are now at the Bureau of Standards, under the scrutiny of government scientists. Those include sections of corroded duraluminum, and samples of the ship's girders, removed during a recent inspection at Lakehurst.

The parts each have been replaced, and the ship will continue in operation pending the board's report, which is expected some time in May. Although the vessel has been examined carefully by its crew four times a year, the present tests are the first conducted by the Board of Inspection and Survey since the dirigible was received from Germany five years ago. Should the board decree that the Los Angeles is good for more than another year of operation, America has in prospect a Zeppelin fleet unmatched by other nations of the world.

Two new dirigibles, the ZRS-4 and the ZRS-5 are now under construction by the Goodyear-Zeppelin corporation, surpassing in size and performance all other ships of their kind.

Called Police To

Get Amos And Andy
Philadelphia, March 18.—(UP)—Mrs. S. A. Rhoades, who lives in the Tioga section of Philadelphia, fiddled with her dials last night. But for all her fiddling, something was wrong. She couldn't get Amos and Andy.

Mrs. Rhoades got mad. Finally she went into the street and pulled the lever in a police call box. Three officers in a riot car sped to the Rhoades' residence.

"What's happened?" asked Officer Caraway, when Mrs. Rhoades answered the door.

"Plenty," said Mrs. Rhoades. "Come in here and see. I've been trying for an hour and I can't get Amos and Andy. I want something done about it."

RUMSEY WRITES OF CONDITIONS IN THE MARKET

Head Of Big Commission Firm In Chicago Is- sues Statement

H. A. Rumsey, President and Treasurer of Rumsey & Co., who have offices in this city under the management of C. D. Anderson, today issued the following statement on conditions in the grain industry:

Front page news these days seems equally divided between the proceedings of the Farm Board and the discovery by an astronomer of a new world planet.

It is as yet too early to learn whether the new planet will prove to have any surplus of wheat to market in competition with the Farm Board holdings; and, as a matter of fact, it is not definitely known whether they will raise any wheat at all. If they do, it is of course difficult to say whether they will specialize in the raising of Spring or Winter wheat. The question of storage room and transportation is also a matter of grave importance.

However, in these days of anticipation and pessimism, it is never too early to give all such matters serious and sober consideration.

WHEAT

Higher cables and a better inquiry from abroad, together with some uneasiness in regard to the possible spread of labor trouble in the Argentine, influenced a more cheerful feeling in the market today. Winnipeg also took on some unexpected strength.

The news from the Southwest was more optimistic—scattered rains since Saturday, and snow late today; Nebraska, Kansas and Missouri reported sleet and hail storms. Saturday and Sunday, temperatures over the Southwest winter wheat belt were in the 70's.

Reports are coming from various parts of the winter wheat belt that the Hessian fly is showing up, and we expect to hear more about this during the next two weeks.

Today our visible supply is about 30 million bushels more than a year ago. The government report, March 10th, on farm reserves, showed 129 million as against 151 millions a year ago. This would make the visible supply, and the invisible supply in farm hands, combined about the same as last year. About the middle of last September, our visible supply was in the neighborhood of 90 million more than for the same period a year ago. This would indicate a disappearance in excess of last year of 60 millions, which has taken place without the assistance of a normal export demand.

A report today read as follows: "Just returned from Southern Illinois and Indiana. Saw many fields of winter wheat that showed excessive damage, due to fly infestation and heaving."

The world has had so much bearish news—some of which was propaganda, that it is going to be hard to change, especially for the foreign buyer, who thinks that we have a certain amount of wheat that must be moved, and who is waiting for cheaper prices. However, the foreigner will have to take a considerable amount of North American wheat between now and the first of August. In our judgment, present prices are too low.

CORN

There was not much in the news today; scattered commission house buying right after the opening, then the trade became light for the balance of the session.

The situation looks strong, and the possibilities on the long side look excellent. The visible supply is about 10 millions less than last year; stocks in Chicago around 4 millions, vs. over 14 millions last year. Of the stocks here, around 600,000 bu. are in public houses available for delivery on future contract. The balance of the stock is in private houses and being merchandised mostly to Eastern points.

At the opening of navigation, well over a million bushels should move out of this market.

So far, the disposition of the farmer is to hold for a higher market; and we are now at the time of the year when even if the farmer wanted to haul he could not afford to take the time, and thereby, neglect his Spring work.

We do not expect to see any increased movement for the next thirty days—if then. In the meantime, we might run into a very strong situation.

We can see excellent possibilities on the long side.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH

A large group of men met last night at the regular monthly meeting of the Brotherhood. This organization has been taking on real life in the last three months. An interesting program filled with discussion from a number of members was a mark of the rising enthusiasm.

These men are thinking and working for the Lenten services held at the church every Wednesday at 7:30 P. M. Larger congregations have been gathering every Wednesday. Even though this is true there are yet a number of our friends in the membership and outside who should be enjoying their devotional and blessed services. There is yet room for growth. We are attempting to reach out as far as the membership extends—to its relations and its possible friendships—so as to be a real help to the whole community.

The sermon topic for tomorrow night is "A Certain Man Had Two Sons." You are invited to worship with us.

For $1.25 you as a reader of the Dixon Evening Telegraph are entitled to one of our $1,000 accident insurance policy. You cannot afford to be without this splendid protection.

BEER IS OUT OF DRY ISSUE WITH REPEAL AN AIM

Wets Make Strategic Al- teration In Plans Before Congress

By PAUL R. MALLON
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, March 18.—(UP)—Beer was practically knocked out of the prohibition picture today.

Day by day the old proposal to modify the Volstead act by permitting manufacture of light wines and beers is being submerged while the wets are rallying around the direct plan of repealing the eighteenth amendment.

The requiem hung upon the proposal by Chairman Wickernam of the Law Enforcement Commission in coining what came to be a famous phrase—"2.75 per cent beer will not satisfy a robust appetite" follows the almost unanimous opinion to the same effect, expressed by the outstanding wet leaders before the House Judiciary committee recently.

Two weeks ago the House wet bloc, which decided in December to fight for the Dyer 2.75 per cent beer bill, unofficially changed its position to champion direct repeal.

The change marks a distinct strategic move in the plans of the wets. A simple amendment to the Volstead act could be passed whenever a majority in Congress was obtained but repeal is a long process which must gain two-thirds support in both Houses and then receive ratification by three-fourths of the states.

Hearings on the Dyer 2.75 per cent beer bill had been scheduled in the House, but they may now be abandoned because of lack of support.

Wets, however, obtained no more sympathy from Wickernam on their new proposal to repeal. The matter has not been considered by his commission, he carefully pointed out.

But he painted a most optimistic picture of existing enforcement conditions, saying they were growing better daily. This statement left in the minds of dry committee members the idea that Wickernam's commission would never report in favor of modification or repeal.

Suspicion Dispelled
Whatever suspicion there has been among wets and timorous dries concerning the probable final report of the commission, it was completely dispelled by Wickernam's statement according to the congressional interpretation.

Another result of his stand has been a lessening of pressure for the Norris resolution proposing a Senatorial investigation of the federal enforcement service. While Wickernam declined to take sides for or against the resolution and Chairman Norris of the committee announced he would press for its adoption, check of the committee indicated after Wickernam's statement that the resolution could muster no more than 7 of the 17 votes in the committee.

"Mr. Wickernam's statement has not increased the prospects of the Norris resolution," Senator Walsh, Dem., Mont., a supporter of the resolution said.

"The statement emphasizes the steady improvement in enforcement conditions and points to the lack of necessity for an investigation," said Senator Robinson, Repn., Ind., opponent of the resolution.

The one recommendation made by Wickernam for tightening permit legislation probably will be incorporated in a bill and submitted to Congress within a short time. It will authorize the enforcement service to require reports from permittees showing what they do with alcohol and whiskey after they withdraw it.

Orders Five Cases

Of Budweiser Beer

St. Louis, March 18.—(UP)—Henry P. Schroeder, member of the St. Louis Board of Education, fairly radiates optimism.

Today Anheuser-Busch, Inc., received the following communication from him: "I wish to place a standing order with your firm for delivery of five cases of your famous Budweiser beer to my home."

"Will you please keep this order on file until, when and if the law is changed so as to enable you to fill it?"

Insane Student Is Committed to Asylum

St. Louis, Mo., March 18.—(UP)—Alan R. Schumm, 18-year-old University of Illinois freshman, committed to the City Sanitarium here for life after a jury found him insane when he shot and killed his father.

and wounded his mother, remained apparently unshaken by the verdict as he began the long sentence today. A Circuit Court jury deliberated but thirty minutes late yesterday, before arriving at its decision that the youth was insane when he committed the deed on the night of January 5 the evening before he was to return to the University after spending the Christmas holidays with his parents here.
